What's new in Portable Farm:

/ Sex Toy Community on Facebook Hi Alan,Just a quick question, which you probably know the answer to already but it'd be good to know. On your forums when you feature interviews with porn stars or webcam models do you have to get their permission to use their images or video on the forum/MPGs? So could I put your GBB thread on my web page (the tiniest bit of text on a transparent background) and, if so, I will cite you as the source? Just a thought. Have a great day. and give Ginny a big slap on the tickertape if it doesn't work by tomorrow morning!Back to sex toy forum :O) no, you just have to mention and link to the original interview or source. No issues, 100%. I just noticed a transmissvion of the GBB. His comments are good. You should air it before Bravo does the story when they expose so-called "pros" No slight to the GBB by the way. He sells his stuff and hopefully he will make good money from it, fuck knows Last edited by Chuck Norris on Sun Oct 06, 2006 4:31 pm, edited 1 time in total. And the answer to my question is.. NO YOU DO NOT NEED PERMISSION TO USE THE FOOTAGE AND PLEASE DO NOT SUBMIT IT! It's very common practice and I THINK it's only fair. Just leave a quick note if you're using the photo of that person in "accordance with the laws and regulations of your country" and that's it. People will want to use your interview, and they can, if they have to ask permission. How could you possibly know what will happen? I am just kidding, dear friend! You know very well if the interview is used, permission is given, the person does not object or you run into trouble! But I guess we know the future. what.... I am hosting a 3 day research party in Harlem to feature over 50 indie sextoys and accessories from some of the industry's best makers! Calling it "Sexy Liberal Arts Meets Health & Sex" and it runs from Aug 31 to Sept 2. A big part of it will be engaging with those who make the sextoys, but most importantly I want to connect people with those who design the good stuff! Dinner Aug 31 and Sept 1, 5

-Strong Survival Horror -The "One" Tip and Tricks -Innovation -"Deep" Immersion Experience This is a story-driven, single-player puzzle horror game. In Facility, the player will solve puzzles in the dark. The puzzles involve trying to make the way through the facility in order to escape the death-defying experience. Along the way, players will encounter 3 monsters that they will need to avoid in order to escape alive. Each monster has their own characteristic, their own way of hunting down and killing the player. The player will be challenged to navigate the maze of the facility by opening doors and rooms with 001, 002, and 003 following each and every step they make.

A: There are three puzzle rooms in Facility, but only one of them is required to complete the game. The "Master's Lair" contains the necessary puzzle to solve the game, and is also the only puzzle room in the game that is shown on the TV screen when the game begins. Once the player gets to the Master's Lair, the action is over and the game is over. The second puzzle room contains a single-screen puzzle. The puzzles are minimal and not particularly challenging. There are no monsters in this puzzle room. The third puzzle room contains the monsters. The player must navigate the maze as quickly as possible, avoiding the monsters at all costs. The player is unaware of the rooms in the maze, so the order in which the player is forced to walk through the maze is unknown. In short, you can start at any point in the maze in any order without any penalty. A: The first room is the master's Lair, where the puzzles are introduced and solved. In the second puzzle room, the game is over. In the third puzzle room, there are only three monsters waiting for you. The player must navigate the maze by opening doors and rooms with 001, 002, and 003, following each and every step they make. There are no obstacles that can prevent you from unlocking the door to the other puzzle rooms. There is no penalty for starting at an incorrect location in the maze, or entering an incorrect room. Q: Prove that any interval on a line can be expressed as $k\delta$ where δ is a positive number. Prove that any interval
